

PRESS RELEASE

Ceremony for the Presentation of the International Award “Economy and Society”

Friday, 24 October 2025, 10:00 - 12:15

Istituto Maria Bambina – John Paul II Hall

Via Paolo VI, No. 21, Rome

The ceremony marking the seventh edition of the International “Economy and Society” Award offers an opportunity for reflection on Christian social thought and its contribution to building a more just, equitable, and compassionate society. Established twelve years ago, the biennial award seeks to recognize works distinguished by their original contribution to the study and practical application of the Church’s Social Doctrine, characterized by sound theological and doctrinal grounding and accessibility to a wider public.

The event brings together leading figures from the ecclesiastical, academic, and cultural worlds, providing a forum for dialogue and exchange. The awardees’ testimonies and speakers’ contributions will enrich ongoing reflection on the ethical challenges of our time.

The winner of this seventh edition is Fr. Paolo Benanti for his essay “Human in the Loop. Decisioni umane e intelligenze artificiali” (Mondadori). Artificial intelligence now permeates every aspect of daily life, and as Fr. Benanti writes on his website (www.paolobenanti.com) devoted to ethics, bioethics, and technology: “I seek to clarify the ethical and anthropological meaning of technology for Homo sapiens: we are a species that has inhabited and transformed the world for 70,000 years - the human condition is a techno-human condition”.

In addition to the main award, two research fellowships will also be presented to Enrico Frosio, Ph.D. at the Catholic University of the Sacred Heart in Milan, for his research on rethinking the present in light of the legacy of Benedictine monasticism and to Fr. Raman Sussha, Ph.D. at the Pontifical University of St. Thomas Aquinas – Angelicum in Rome, for his work on designing meaning in the digital age: mythodesign as a challenge for contemporary missiology.
