“Meeting point” for journalists to present the Women’s Consultation Group, permanent body within the Pontifical Council for Culture

At 11 a.m. today, at the Holy See Press Office, in Via della Conciliazione 54, a “meeting point” was held for journalists to present the “Women’s Consultation Group”, a permanent body within the Pontifical Council for Culture.

The following were available to members of the press: His Eminence Cardinal Gianfranco Ravasi, president of the Pontifical Council for Culture; Consuelo Corradi, coordinator of the Women’s Consultation Group and pro-rector for research and international relations at the LUMSA University, Rome; and Shahrazad Houshmand, Iranian theologian and member of the Women’s Consultation Group.

A further twenty-five women, members of the same Group, were also present.

The event also included the presentation of the monographic issue of “Culture and Faith”, the journal of the dicastery, edited by the Women’s Consultation Group.
